

DRUGGISTS HIGHLY RECOMMEND DR. KILMER'S SWAMP-ROOT

Satisfied With Results

I have been selling Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root for six and one-half years, and my customers are always satisfied with the results obtained from the use of the medicine and speak favorably regarding it. I have used it for "pain in the back" and a bottle or two put me in good shape and made me feel fine again. I believe Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root will cure any cases for which it is recommended if they are not too long standing.

Very truly yours,
FRANK JENKINS, Druggist.

Customers Speak Favorably

We have been handling Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root for fourteen years and during all that time we never had a dissatisfied user of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root; all of our customers speak very favorably regarding it. We know of cases of Gall Stones, Gravel, Catarrh of the Bladder and Rheumatism where it produced the most beneficial results. We believe it is a good medicine for the diseases for which it is intended.

Very truly yours,

Stuck Strictly to Facts.
Some people are too literal for anything. A young man gave a graphic description of a narrow escape that he had recently had from an enraged bull.

"I seized him by the tail," he exclaimed; "and there I was. I was afraid to hold on, and I dare not let go."

"Between the horns of a dilemma, as it were," ventured a young lady, very much interested.

"No," replied the young man; "I wasn't between the horns at all; besides, he wasn't a dilemma; he was a Jersey."

Cause for Doubt.
We rested our sleeve against the wet paint.

"But did you not see that sign?" so indignantly inquired the proprietor of the corner grocery, "which says that the paint is fresh?"

"Certainly!" we replied with biting sarcasm, for we were greatly annoyed. "But we have often beheld placards in your accursed establishment announcing fresh eggs, butter, vegetables and so on, and usually found them erroneous and deceptive. So why should we suspect that this sign was anything but a pleasant fable?"—Kansas City Star.

If a girl is pretty her knowledge of the fact is apt to spoil the effect.

Bucharest, City of Spies

MILITARY REVIEW IN BUCHAREST

Bucharest is a city of unrest. Roumania lacks repose. The westerner is immediately confronted by these two factors directly he emerges from the home of Magyar or Slav. They also indicate, although not adequately explaining, the character of the Roumanian people, says a correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger, writing before Roumania entered the war.

Bucharest is a city of spies. There is an element in the character of the Roumanian that admits of his becoming an able exponent of espionage. The Roumanian trusts nobody, and consequently is not trusted, but it is the manner in which he manages to secure his ends that is so interesting and often wonderful. He is a man of enterprise, two essentials in "intelligence."

Honeycombed as Bucharest is with nationalities, nothing escapes; and the neutrality of the country has played an important part in the great war. In the Calcutta Victoria representatives of almost every country in the world may be found slowly promening.

There are many find the observant but silent Jap and the dusky negro, the browned German or Austrian officer in uniform, and the American from the oil fields, the Magyar of the plains and the southern Slav, the volatile Frenchman and the calm Scandinavian, the stolid Russian and the quaintly garbed Turk, all mingling and commingling with the decorative uniforms of the Roumanian army and presenting a patchwork of character, color and language.

Bucharest slumbers not nor does it sleep; it is activity incarnate. Early in the morning, long before the contents of the Minerva Universal or the Dinamo have been digested, the principal thoroughfares are beset with youths shouting the wares of the sensational Drapeaux. Something has fallen, some catastrophe overtaken the central empire or the entente. The repetition appears to insure conversation during the lunch; it is an aid to indignation. Rest and repose are foreign to Roumania.

Good Publicity Center.
Having all this in view, it is not very wonderful that Germany, at the outbreak of war, immediately recognized the value of Bucharest as a publicity center. Publicity, what crimes have been committed in its name!

With that clever cunning one now associates with Teutonic newspaper industry in the Balkans, Roumania has been simply inundated with propaganda information concerning the failures of the triple entente.

Instead of relying upon the effect produced by mushroom newspapers bearing topical names, the Germans captured most of the established papers, and with them a public ready and receptive, instantly available. The allies have neglected the press factor in Roumania. Confronted with their press enterprise the Germans refused to the full the opportunities for espionage afforded by the "Latin" island amid a Slav sea. The same group of "agents" who negotiated the sale or transfer of the newspapers were responsible for the establishment of the Teutonic spy system in Bucharest.

Situated in Strada Cosma, near the end of the Calea Victoria, in close proximity to the German legation, stands an unobtrusive-looking building in a quiet backwater of city respectability. Here the headquarters of the intelligence deposit their news, where it is submitted to minute examination before being forwarded to Berlin; here all instructions are given, and skulking along by the shade of the high wall may be seen from time to time the disturbing figures of diplomats, life bent upon errands of international import.

This much must be said for the "spies."

Indian Writing Found in North.
That the Spokane country once was peopled by a race of Indians whose sign writing cannot be interpreted by the tribes of the present day is shown by the disclosure of Indian hieroglyphics on rocks near the mouth of the Little Spokane river. The marks are found on rocky cliffs north of the Little Spokane on the old Blinky place. Pioneers of Spokane have known of these marks for years, but their exact location has never been made known to the public for fear they might be destroyed before steps were taken for their preservation. With the organization of a Spokane historical society, whose purpose will be to mark such historical places, the hieroglyphics will be preserved and every effort made to have them deciphered.

Twinkling Stars.
The twinkling of the stars is more apparent than real, and is an effect produced in our atmosphere on the waves of light. It is due to currents and eddies of air of different densities, intermingling and floating past each other through which the light passes.

Lace Hats for Evening.
Lace hats for evening are replacing the hats of tulle or chiffon. And these lace hats are preferably black. They are large, and to be worn at restaurants and theaters with evening gowns. Many are of black Chantilly lace, sometimes with a panne satin glaze. Sometimes a large lace bow is caught, at the front or on the side, with a jet button.

These hats carry out the idea that to be smart this year a hat must be either very large or very, very small. The women who always look best in conservative, medium sizes must be content to be a little incorrect this year, although really, as everybody knows, a woman can always wear what she wants to, just so long as it is becoming to her and made of good material. It remains true that the season offers certain shapes which certain women would be wise to avoid.

Velvet Rose to Hold Drapery.
Just one large, flat velvet rose used on the hip of an evening gown, accentuating a drapery is very effective.

The HOME BEAUTIFUL Flowers and Shrubbages Their Care and Cultivation

A Garden of Bulbs—Note the Hyacinths and Tulips in the Background. A Fine Study for Future Planting.

WAR THREATENS FLOWERS
By ELIZABETH VAN BENTHUYSEN

It is a good, far cry from the grim horrors of war to the pretty hyacinth and the crocus, but recent news brings the interesting information that the great European conflict is presenting a serious menace to the chief source of imported bulbs.

Private advices received in New York from flower folk in Holland, who cannot be considered as prejudiced or even interested in the larger affairs of state, say that there is danger of having the bulb supply for the next half century destroyed. Holland has her army ready to fight either side, and she has a number of issues which might make her entry possible.

As a first item of defense she plans to flood all the lands in her dike system. This, say the flower experts, will result in the destruction of the great bulb industry. Not for 50 years, according to the sages of flowerdom, will the industry recover from such a calamity.

All of which is but a news preface to the remark that the raising of bulbs in pots, pans and glasses during the winter months is a simple and easy process if one is fairly careful of the requirements. Among the many methods by which bulbs can be successfully grown, there are:

In soil placed in pots and pans, with drainage at the bottom.
In fiber, which is a light, spongy material, prepared with a view to prevent rotting. Bowls, jardinières, vases or any other receptacles where the roots can take hold may be used.

In water, with pebbles or sand in the bottom of glasses, to prevent the bulbs from falling over.

Hyacinths, narcissus, daffodils, tulips and crocuses are among the joys that are easily possible with little effort. Almost every dealer in the country has his stock of bulbs ready for the market.

If forcing is wanted, the larger bulbs should be taken. They grow larger and stronger flowers. The last of November is not too late for planting, and the treatment of all bulbs is about the same, excepting that tulips take more time than the others.

Here are a few hints:
A six-inch pot is the best for all purposes.

Use light garden soil in potting.
Place a piece of broken pot over the hole in the bottom to secure free drainage.

Fill the pot three-quarters with soil. Three hyacinths, as many narcissus, five tulips and a dozen crocuses can be placed in a six-inch pot.

Space evenly.
The practice of placing a layer of clean sand directly under the bulbs is fasten dahlias and other brittle-stalked tall growers to some support, to protect from storms and winds.

Cut overhanging grasses as soon as the flowers are fully opened, tie in bunches, hang head down, and dry in the shade, for winter bouquets.

GARDEN NOTES

Plenty of water is necessary for the bulbs brought into the living room. By having a pan of bulbs ready to bring from the cellar every ten days or so, a succession of flowers can be had all through the winter.

Electrical Volta.
A Columbus (Ind.) man called a newspaper office there to get some election news. He wished to know how many states had given their electoral votes to Hughes and how many had gone to Wilson. He did a little mental arithmetic and then asked another question. Here it is:
"Well, how many electrical volts are there, anyhow?"
He probably was a brother to the Indianapolis man who called to learn whether his favorite "had enough collateral notes to win."—Indianapolis News.

Color of imagination.
"Oh, mamma, the little boy exclaimed in high excitement, 'look there's a rabbit!'"
"Oh, no, dear," replied the mother in fond rebuke, because it was a place where rabbits seemed improbable, and because she had not quite the keen vision of her son. "I think it's only imagination."

There followed a little pause, during which the boy was thinking, and then he asked: "Mummy, are all imaginations white behind?"

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS
You have swollen feet and hands! Stiff, aching joints! Sharp-shooting, rheumatic pains! You have aching back, pain in the lower abdomen, itching when urinating, a weak, watery urine, and all these are danger signals. Trouble is with your kidneys. Urine acid poisoning, in one form or another, has set in. It may lead to dropsy or fatal Bright's disease, if not checked. Get some GOLD MEDAL Harelem Oil Capsules immediately. They are an old preparation, used all over the world for centuries, combining natural healing oils and herbs, known to physicians and used by thousands in their daily practice. The Capsules are not an experimental, makeshift concoction of "patent" medicine, whose effect is only temporary. They are a standard remedy, and act naturally, gently and quickly. But when you go to the druggist, insist on getting the pure, original Harelem Oil in Capsules. Be sure the name GOLD MEDAL is on the box, and take tablets of your own against counterfeits. Adv.

What to Do If Light Goes Out.
If your electric lights are cut off suddenly a very good light can be made in the following manner: Melt a tablespoonful of lard and pour it in the top of a baking powder can. Put in four strands of ordinary white wrapping twine, allowing one end to stand up for about one-half inch above the edge of the can. Light the end the same as a candle.

Harsh Criticism.
"What is the mean temperature of that place?"
"That's the kind it is."

Bodily Housekeeping
(By V. M. PIERCE, M. D.)
The subject of drinking water with meals has been misunderstood.

In recent years investigation by means of X-rays, the observations of scientists such as Dr. Grutzmacher, Pavlov, Fowler, Hawk, prove that an abundance of water taken during digestion is necessary in good bodily housekeeping.

If your kidneys are sick, or you suffer with lumbago or rheumatism at times, pain in the back or back of the neck, take a little Anuric before meals. This can be found at any good drug store. Therefore my advice to young or old is, always drink plenty of pure water. And for long life, occasionally take tablets of Anuric three or four times a day.

Anuric acts much more quickly than lithia. Many find that it dissolves uric acid as water does sugar.

OHIO NEWS
Columbus, Ohio.—I had an obstinate cough which I was unable to rid of. I tried several remedies which did little good. Then I began taking Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It helped me at once, and by continuing its use for a few weeks the cough was cured.

I left me entirely. I have had no return since, except slight colds. I keep "Golden Medical Discovery" in the house all the time as a family remedy.—MR. GUS. RAMBACHER, Southern Hotel, Columbus, Ohio.

One nice thing about Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is that it contains no alcohol or narcotic, nor any harmful ingredient. In liquid and tablets and sold by druggists.—Adv.
